

Strong Tower COFFEE

As the name suggests, Strong Tower Coffee gives the privilege of a sense of a strong dedication to a vocation. In the foothills of the mountains in the country of El Salvador, lives a tenacious group of folks who have allowed themselves to be strengthened by the very difficult circumstances they have faced themselves in.

Misael Aguilar's father passed away when Misael was a young child. At that time his mother could not care for all her children, so Misael was taken into a home provided by Amish Mennonites. This home sheltered about 85 children. After four years there he was able to find a job where he could financially support his mother and return to his parental home. But the time spent in the AMA home was enough to inspire him to follow Jesus Christ, and to light in him the fire to open a coffee shop where he could give back at least a little of what was given to him.

View of San Salvador volcano from Strong Tower

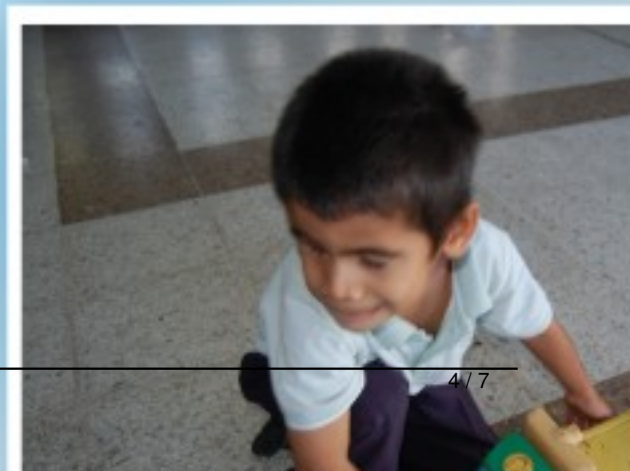

→†

Dayana and Idalia

located in El Salvador's Western-most growing region, also known as "Volcán San Salvador", where about 2/3 of the consists of heirloom Arabica beans. Most of grown in rich volcanic best of it is SHG-class (High Grown), yielding "classic" cup profile with Misael is convinced that if Strong Tower Coffee connect with the outside world of coffee roasters, the things the children need could be provided for, and a living could be made. JavAlliance wishes to help make possible and we have now agreed to help Strong Tower start with the upcoming crop to locate 265 sacks of Strong Tower Coffee. Strong Tower has agreed to process and prepare their coffee for export to the JavAlliance quality standards.

This coffee is washed

JavAlliance is also working with an organization that is interested in financing the equipment to process the coffee to American markets. JavAlliance will keep you updated as these efforts bear fruit as the Strong Tower Children's home progresses towards completion and living. If you have an interest in Strong Tower Coffee, contact Misael Aguilar direct at misael.torrefuerte@javalliance.com, 011-503-7786-6827, or a teamember@javalliance.com toll free: 1-800-580-3096

Be assured that you will not reach a high pressured salesperson. You will either be in contact with the grower himself or a knowledgeable and informative JavAlliance member!

→,Ä†